Note:

The information within is current as of October 12, 2009 and the information within may have changed by the time you get your hands on this report. While I feel strongly that you should be able to rank on the first page of Google for any one of the keywords listed below, I do not guarantee that this will happen. Please be sure to use unique content and do the steps necessary to acquire ranking and traffic to your sites.

Search Criteria:

- Minimum of 1500 searches per month using Exact Match, i.e. keyword in brackets like this: [keyword] (this is the most stringent criteria one can use for search information)
- Must have availability of Exact Match domain name (all the keywords listed below have exact match domain names available at the time of this writing – see screenshots for more info). Only .com, .net and .org counts for exact match. This is significant as Google will give you a “ranking bonus” for this (in other words, your site will rank easier).
- The first page of Google must be populated with:
 - o Primarily with URLs from internal pages of large sites, such as Amazon, eBay, EzineArticles, Nextag etc. Preferably not top level domains, unless...
 - o 2 spots within the top 10 results with less than 50 backlinks, and/or...
 - o have multiple spots in the top 10 with unoptimized pages for the keyword (no keyword in title, meta description, header tags)

Each keyword below will have the following information:

- Estimated average cost per click for Adwords
- Local Search Volume Information based on US results – for the month of September, 2009.
- Top 10 positions with less than 50 links
- Competition Analysis for the top 10 positions in Google for each keyword (see below)

Deciphering the Competition Analysis Screen Shot:

The Competition Analysis screenshot looks like this:
